

WOMEN AND JOB PRECARIETY

Screening of Femmes Précaires, a film by Marcel Trillat, in French with English subtitles (81 mns)

Followed by a roundtable with the filmmakers and guest speakers

WEDNESDAY,
OCTOBER 9

Screening starts at 5.30 pm

LAW SCHOOL
3-09

150 W 62nd St
New York, NY 10023

Marcel and Julien Trillat will be joined by several guest speakers for a roundtable discussion on the film and the questions of employment, gender inequality and job precarity in France, but also in the United States.

Greta Gilbertson is Associate Professor of Sociology at Fordham University

Mark Street is a filmmaker and Associate Professor of Visual Arts at Fordham University

Andrew Tilson is the co-founder and co-director of the Workers United Film Festival, taking place annually in New York City in May.

RSVP and further info: Audrey Evrard (aevrard@fordham.edu)

This public event was possible thanks to the generous support of several partners: the Deans of Arts and Sciences at Fordham University, the Film, TV, and New Media Department at the Cultural Services of the French Embassy, the Departments of Modern Languages and Literatures, Visual Arts, Sociology and Anthropology, Communication and Media Studies as well as the Program in Comparative Literature at Fordham University, the Language Learning Center at Fordham College-Rose Hill, Fordham IT, and last but not least, the students of FREN 3280 French Documentary in Action who created the English subtitles for the film.